WESTERN ROADS GETTING TOGETHER. They Will Endeavor to Adopt New

New Your, Nov. 14 .- The Sun this morning says: "The first formal step in the comprehensive arrangement which it is proposed to make between the mission and instructions and hied him Granger, the Southwestern and the Trans Continental trunk lines will probably be taken to day or to morrow at the latest, when Mr. J. Pierrepont rgan, at the instance of a large number of security holders of the roads, will issue a circular to the presidents of the roads referred to requesting them to convene in this city to meet the ronreake up the ratiroad situation with a view of adopting entirely new methods of business. The plan which will be submitted has been formally considered by all of the interests involved.

That plan in brief provides for the aweeping away of all the present intricate and expensive machinery for accuring business which has always been menace to rates and has constantly avolved the roads in warfare. In its place it is proposed to establish at every inportant shipping point a single agency for the transaction of all competitive business in the natural or geographical subdivisions of the railroad system of this country. Another feature is the removal of the rate making power from general freight agents and investing it menable to the board of directors of the several companies represented in

When the presidents of the Western roads meet in response to Mr. Morgan's circular the largest shareholders to those companies will advocate the adoption of a special agreement to the effect that no new railroad building shall be undertaken in the territory that those road serve except by the approval of a board of extensions, in which each company shall be equally represented.
